is recommended
H.W's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended h a degree of success highly grateful he inventor's feelings in several parts he West Indies and in the Southern Middle States, &c.
The testimony of a number of persons be adduced, who have reason to bee that a timely use of this salutary rey has, under Providence, preserved r lives when in the most alarming cir-stances.
facts of this conclusive nature speak e in favour of a medicine than cons of pompous eulogy founded on e assertion.
t is not indeed presumptuously pro-ed as an infallible cure, but the invenhas every possible reason that can refrom extensive experience for beg that a dose of these Pills taken e in every two weeks during the pre-ence of our bilious fevers, will prove infallible preventive; and further, in the earlier stages of those diseases r use will very generally succeed in oring health, and frequently in cases emed desperate and beyond the pow-f common remedies.
The operation of these pills is perfectly ll so as to be used with safety by pers in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry superfluous bile and prevent its morsecretions—to restore and amend the etite—to produce a free perspiration thereby prevent colds which are of-of fatal consequences. A dose never s to remove a cold if taken on its first earance: they are celebrated for re-ing habitual costiveness—sickness at stomach and severe head-ache—and ht to be taken by all persons on a nge of climate.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE
AND DAILY ADVERTISER.

PUBLISHED BY SAMUEL SNOWDEN,
ROYAL-STREET.

Daily Gazette $7....Country Gazette $5.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1817.

Mr. Snowden will confer a favor on a friend to religious and laudable institutions by presenting the following extract to the public:

Extract from the speech of the Reverend Mr Spring, at the anniversary of the New-York Sunday School Union Society.

When I take a review of the past year, of the obstacles overcome, of the prejudices encountered, and of the great indifference which, by many, has been shown to this institution, I cannot but hail this evening as affording triumphant evidence of the excellence of our system. Had we listened to the fears of the faint-hearted, the objections of the half informed, or the predictions of those whom, with unpardonable apathy, have yet leisure for prophecy, your committee might either have held their meeting in solitude and in sorrow, or have abandoned an institution, for which thousands are this moment blessing them. But your committee, sir, though neither prophets nor the sons of prophets, foresaw the difficulties which might impede their course, and with Providence for their guide, they determined to meet and conquer them—with their shoulder to the plough, they remembered the caution of their master, and looked only forward. Need I enter into the success of their labors? Your report, in language far better than I am capable of giving, has stated the facts; and with these I am sure the society will rest satisfied. I must be pardoned, sir, if, in a few words, I call your attention to the effect which the Sunday Schools produce upon all who are concerned in them. It is but one year since we commenced our operations in this city; discouragements assailed us on every hand; those who ought to have given their instant support, declared that no necessity for such a school existed—they said all the poor were, or, if it was not their own fault, might be instructed. But the principal difficulties arose from the parents of the destitute and ignorant children.—Many refused their children the privileges which were tendered them; and still more objected—without any sense of religion themselves, they saw no necessity for it in their offspring.

But, sir, these objections have vanished. We ventured to assert on this floor, at our first meeting, what we have since seen realized—that the most effectual mode of approaching the parent, is thro' the medium of the child: not to enter into the reasons for this, we need only to state the fact. The indifference of the parent, in many cases, has been removed, the affections have been enlisted, and the obstinacy has been subdued. Vices have been abandoned by the mild and simple remonstrance of the recently instructed child, and there are not a few of those parents who are now hailing the patrons of these schools as the best friends of the human race. One effect of your system I cannot but notice—it is the moral beauty, harmony and order, observable in all the Sunday Schools.

Those members of your committee who have regularly visited the schools every Sabbath, have been forcibly struck with this fact, sir—it is a new thing in the earth, and an effect which no other institution, that I am acquainted with, has produced: your society brings together youth blooming with health and beauty, and the chastened understanding of mature years—it blends in its operations all the various talents, feelings, views and frailties, of the human mind and constitution. Yet there is no discord; the most irritable listen with patience to the dullest pupil—the most intelligent to the least instructed. The uplifted rod has no place here; the angry passions seem subdued by the importance of the charge, overawed by the sanctity of the day and of the deed. It is the voice of affection which the scholar hears—the language of kindness, as of the tenderest parent, which soothes or subdues his heart. Observe the teachers—a smile of joy greets the young pupils as they approach them; the Sabbath has, to them, new charms, because it renews their duties and their pleasures. Here, perhaps, sir, I ought to stop, but I feel solemnized by the subject and the occasion.

Time, on eagle's wings, is hurrying us on, and the space allowed us for fulfilling our duties, in promoting the present and eternal welfare of the rising generation, will soon be gone—we shall all sleep in the dust; but "that day for which all others were made" is fast approaching, when, starting from the grave, and conquerors over death, shall spring forth these benevolent individuals, who have been the happy means of leading the youthful mind from vice and error, to purity and truth. Methinks I see the day! the curtain is up, there sets the judge, and there those who are to be judged. Now, come forward the men, whose delight was to bless as much as to be blessed. With humble reverence and radiant countenance they approach the throne: "Here we are, and the children whom thou hast given us," forms their short successful appeal. Listen to the voice from the excellent Glory—Well done! is pronounced before assembled worlds—Well done! is re-echoed thro' the vaulted Heavens. Then commingling with the spirits of the just, now made perfect, and cheered by the plaudits of that company which no man can number, they

"Clap their glad wings and tour away,
And mingle with the blaze of day."

Washington, October 22

The President has returned to the seat of government from a short visit to his estate in Virginia.

We find in the Baltimore Federal Gazette of Monday a list of no less than 34 criminal convictions at the late session of the city courts. Of the criminals seven were females, and 16 negroes.

A PATRIOT CRUISER DETAINED.

It will be seen under the Savannah Marine Head, that the U. S. brig Saranac has taken possession off St. Mary's, of the privateer schr. Sally, bearing the Mexican flag. The Sally was detained in consequence of her commission not being considered genuine. Two prizes to the Sally, the one a British, the other a Spanish vessel, have also been detained by the Saranac. For his promptitude and vigilance in maintaining the neutral relations of our country, captain Elton of the Saranac, proves himself worthy of its best thanks. A perseverance in the decisive course he has adopted, will, it is hoped, give a serious check to the progress of those piratical operations, which it appears originate, and are intended to be consummated, in the neighborhood of Amelia Island. Charleston City Gaz.

Extract of a letter dated Appalachicola, August 17, 1817.

"Half of 250,000 rations required by Gen Gaines, are partly here and partly on their route to Fort Scott and Gaines, on these waters.

"Kenhagee's (a leading man among the Seminoles, and chief of the Mickasucky town) last message to the commandant at Fort Scott, (Flint river) was rather insulting—he said he had no talks for him—that he expected shortly an English agent, who would settle the affairs of the Indians, and drive the Americans back. Another fellow (the Fowl Town) ordered them not to cut trees on the east of Flint river, and is otherwise high crested.—They have also refused to give audience to an officer sent to them by Gen. Gaines. All these circumstances will hasten on the remainder of the provisions, and as soon as they are in deposit, an overwhelming force will enter the nation, which settles their affairs shortly.

Mobile Gazette.

From the New York Evening Post.

A GRANT DECLARED VOID.

It is not without a share of mingled astonishment and regret that we perceive the following article in the New Orleans Gazette. Strange ideas, indeed, and crude conceptions of elementary principles must pervade a legislature which can thus exercise its power. We know of no way of avoiding a grant but by violence, united with fraud, as in the case of the Georgia legislature, which at the instigation of an incendiary, burnt its records.

From the New Orleans Gazette.

Extract from the report of the house of representatives of the sitting of Saturday, January 18, 1817.

Mr. Jones introducing the following resolution, to wit: Resolved that the committee of commerce and manufactures be instructed to enquire into the expediency of repealing an act of the legislature of the territory of Orleans, granting to Robert R. Livingston and Robert Fulton the sole privilege of using steam boats for a limited time."

DANGER.

We have just heard of a pamphlet published in Washington, from the pen of one of the gentlemen appointed by the government to proceed on a secret mission to South America. We have further been informed that in this work, the author endeavours to show the necessity of a recognition of the independence of the South American colonies. Were the sentiments imputed to this pamphlet, maintained by a common pamphleteer, they would derive all their importance from the merits of the work alone, from the ability with which a question of such momentous importance was argued and discussed. But the question before us assumes a deeper character from the relation which the author stands to the cabinet of Washington. It is fair to presume that our administration have not appointed a man to proceed to South America as an agent, whose political ideas on the subject of South American independence are at variance with their own.—Here the ideas expressed by this writer are avowed, before he sails upon the mission, and our administration, with a full knowledge of this fact, continue him in their service. He sails on the subject of a secret mission, the object of which must be left to conjecture alone; a mission that, if our suspicions are well founded, will not be considered by the allied powers as a matter of indifference. We do not think then, from such evidence, that we press the point too far, when we state that the cabinet entertain a design of acknowledging the independence of Spanish South America. This question, if decided with the advice and concurrence of the European powers, does not present an alarming front; it is decided at once, and from that hour the Spanish Patriots will be independent of the mother country. Spain would hardly deem it prudent herself to contend at such fearful odds; she would without a struggle, surrender the question at once. In the present exhausted state of the Spanish finances, it is almost incredible that this power would, in defiance of so many obstacles, contend the point for a moment, in opposition to the whole effective force of the civilized world. But very different indeed is the state of the question presented, if our government interfere without the assent and concurrence of confederated Europe. This interference will, in all human probability rouse the jealousy of those allies, who may even themselves secretly wish the independence of the South American colonies. They will consider our interference as alarming to them in various points of view, and unless these points are previously adjusted, explained and understood by the allies, is it too much to say that we are doing the greatest injury to the patriotic cause, by adopting so rash and hasty a course of proceeding. Do we urge this point too strongly when we insist that our sole and exclusive acknowledgement of South American independence would be at once decisive of the question, and end in the prostration of all the hopes of the Patriots! Will not our government themselves be chargeable with doing to the revolted colonies the greatest possible injury, when they are intending them a benefit? If people are disposed to contend for such grave nonsense as this, that our administration are bound to act in this business without even consulting the dispositions of the European monarchs; if they deem it beneath the dignity of the nation to consult other independent powers on a question of such extent, and of such magnitude, we have only to reply, that we do not wish to contest the point with those Quixottes of diplomacy who are equally ready to fight a windmill or a man. That it can be believed for a moment, that the powers of Europe look upon one of the most productive quarters of the globe, abounding with all the blessings of Divine Providence, with indifference, is a question so fraught with absurdity, that we disdain its discussion. What renders our government more inexcusable, is this, that we have ministers at foreign courts, who, by only receiving instructions, would sound the disposition of all the European sovereigns on this interesting subject. Our cabinet have only to dictate, and the same thing may be done without any risque, which will now in all probability be incurred with the greatest. We sincerely hope that our fears on this subject are unfounded; but we do sincerely and conscientiously believe, that we are on the eve of great troubles.

Correspondence between the Massachusetts Peace Society and the Emperor of Russia and Prince Gallitzin.

FROM THE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY TO THE EMPEROR.

Brighton (near Boston), April 9, 1817.

SIR—The friendly disposition which you have manifested in favor of the Christian religion and the peace of the world, has encouraged this address. The very week in which the Holy League of the three sovereigns was officially announced in Russia, a Society was formed in Boston, by the name of the Massachusetts Peace Society, the object of which is to disseminate the very principles avowed in the wonderful alliance, and to do whatever may be lawfully done to prevent the recurrance of war, and to promote peace on earth and good will among men.

I take the liberty to present a copy of all the publications which have been circulated by the society. From these you may obtain information of the state of the society, the number of its members at the close of the first year, and its prospects. The first annual report, and the list of officers and members, are contained in the seventh number of the Friend of Peace. Many members have since been added—a new society has since been formed in the state of New-York. At least four Peace Societies have been organized in the United States—others are about forming. Besides these, we have in our country nearly one thousand congregations of Friends or Quakers—which we regard as so many Peace Societies by profession and practice.

The pamphlets your Majesty will be pleased to accept as a token of the veneration and esteem in which your character is held by the friends of peace in this country.

In behalf of the Massachusetts Peace Society,

NOAH WORCESTER, Cor. Sec.

His Majesty ALEXANDER,
Emperor of the Russias.

THE EMPEROR'S ANSWER.

St. Petersburgh, July 4. 1817.

SIR—Your letter in behalf of the Massachusetts Peace Society, with the books accompanying it, were received. The object which this philanthropic institution has in view, the dissemination of the principles of peace and amity among men, meets with my cordial approbation. My endeavors to promote peace and good will among nations are already known; and the power and influence which Almighty God has committed to me shall ever be employed, I trust, in striving to secure to nations the blessings of that peace which we now enjoy.

Considering the object of your society, the promotion of peace among mankind, as one so eminently congenial to the spirit of the gospel of Jesus Christ, I have judged it proper to express the enemy sentiments respecting our labors, in answer to your communication to me on the subject. ALEXANDER.

To Rev. Noah Worcester,
Secretary of the Mass.
Peace Society.

LETTER TO THE PRINCE GALLITZIN.

Brighton, (near Boston) April 9.

SIR—Your name is known and revered in America as the President of the Russian Bible Society. The confidence which your excellent official letters have inspired induce me to send for your perusal all the publications which have been circulated by the Massachusetts Peace Society. Similar copies will accompany these for your worthy emperor. The noble ground which he has taken in the holy league has greatly encouraged the hearts of the friends of peace in this country. As the pamphlets will give you information of the prospects of the Peace Society, I shall only express the hope which is entertained that your name will be enrolled among the avowed friends of peace, and there shine with as great lustre as it has done among the presidents of national Bible Societies.

NOAH WORCESTER,
Cor. Sec. M. S.

His Exc. Prince Alex. Gallitzin.

ANSWER OF PRINCE GALLITZEN.

St. Petersburg, July 17, 1817.

SIR—I received your letter of the 9th April, with the numbers of the Friend of Peace accompanying it, by the hands of Mr. Parsons; for which I return you my heart's thanks. The object which your society has in view, is of great importance to the well being and happiness of the human race. Indeed it seems to me to be almost the same as that of Bible societies—for it is not only in proportion as the divine and peaceable principles of the Gospel of Jesus Christ prevail in the hearts of men, that lasting and universal peace can be expected. A blessed period is promised in the word of God, when men shall know the Lord, even from the least unto the greatest, and that the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord. These latter promises seem to be daily fulfilling in every quarter of the world, by the exertions of bible and other christian societies, to disseminate among men the saving & pacific principles of Jesus Christ. They are preparing the way for your society's gaining its object—peace—universal peace—when men shall learn the art of war no more. Most earnestly praying for every blessing to accompany your labour, in promoting peace on earth and good will among men, I shall reckon it a peculiar honor to be among the members of such a humane society. I remain sir, your most ob't servant,

PRINCE ALEX. GALLITZIN.

To the Rev. Noah Worcester,
Sec'ry of Mass. Society.

At a meeting of the Trustees of the Massachusetts Peace Society, September 25, the foregoing correspondence was communicated, and by them ordered to be published. If the editors of newspapers shall see fit to republish it, the officers of the Peace Society will be gratified, and, it is hoped, the cause of peace will be promoted.

The following is an extract of a letter from Madras, dated 6th January, 1817.

"We have nothing talked of here but war! Lord Moira is gone into the Upper Provinces of Bengal, under pretence of a hunting excursion; but his preparations are more of a military nature, and it is generally conjectured that he intends invading the Mahratta empire, as soon as the season will permit, with an army of 80,000 men.—Our frontiers to the northward and westward have been plundered by a set of freebooters, who have laid waste the whole of the provinces in these directions, and committed the most shocking outrages upon the inhabitants—such as cutting off their noses, fingers, and other parts too horrible to describe.—They are acknowledged by no particular power, but generally believed to be sent by Scindia, the great Mahratta chief; and this supposition is said to be the pretence of the war now in agitation. The estimated loss to the company, occasioned by the invasion of these vagabonds, is one and a half millions sterling. A major of the 8th native cavalry, with a detachment of his regiment of 380 men, came up with a party of about 10,000 of these fellows at Cummum, about 150 miles from Madras. He took them, by surprise, and succeeded completely in routing them. He gave no quarter—killed 800 men, and took 1000 horse, without a single casualty to his own men. This you will say was a glorious achievement; and will immortalize the three brave officers (for there were but three) and the few men that accomplished it."

From the N. Y. Daily Advertiser.

We very often observe references made to newspapers, as containing the most correct evidence of the state of facts, of public opinion, and the views of the government, in the country to which the papers thus referred to may belong. Thus, when angry, petulent, and illiberal paragraphs appear in the British papers, respecting the United States, or their government, commerce, &c. they are set down in this country as decisive proof that the British nation and especially the British government, entertain the same sentiments of us; that our affairs both political and commercial, are constantly corroding the British temper, and that they only wait for a tolerable pretext to make war upon our trade and our civil institutions.—For ought we know, there may be a spice of vanity in this. It is very natural that those of us, who conduct so important a department of the literary system as that of newspapers, should contemplate, with a good degree of complacency, the efficacy of our own labours, and that we should flatter ourselves with the persuasion, that our Gazettes speak a high and authoritative language, and of course that they are entitled to great consideration and respect.

But this plan of establishing, in such cases as suits our own purposes, the authority of newspapers, is like an argument that proves too much—it is capable of being used against us as well as for us. If the reproaches of the English newspapers, are to be considered as conveying the sentiments of the people, and of the government, regarding us and our government, it will be difficult to give any good reason why the same course of conduct, on the part of our newspapers regarding Great Britain, should not be liable to the same construction. And if this be a correct view of the subject, it is very questionable, whether we should, upon the comparison, turn out out to be gainers. If the British papers revile our republicanism, and our Presidents, we are not behind hand with them in railing at their monarchy, their Prince Regent, and their "crazy King." Nor do we believe there can be named a single charge against the one party, that will not be matched with one equally weighty, if not exactly similar, against the other.

However, the danger of adopting the newspapers as the rule of evidence in cases of this sort, is not confined to the particulars abovementioned—it will extend much further, and comprehend others which may prove extremely inconvenient and uncomfortable. If the newspapers are competent, credible, and indisputable witnesses in one set of cases, we see no reason why they should not be so in others, where their means of knowledge are equally advantageous. Let us then specify an instance or two, in which the application of the rule will come more directly home to our own concerns. For example—Take the case of the election of the officers of the state government, which has just taken place in a neighboring state.—It cannot be contended, that the newspapers on the one side and the other of the political struggle in Pennsylvania which has lasted for six or eight months past, have not had a reasonable opportunity to become acquainted with the characters, both political and personal, of the two candidates for the office of governor of that state.—Both the men are somewhat advanced in life, they have both been long in the public employment and have occupied important stations in the government. From these facts it would seem impossible that they should not be well known. If there is any credit due to the papers on the one side and the other, they are not only utterly unfit for any office of honor or profit, but they are men of base and profligate characters, chargeable with almost every characteristic which should disqualify them for so high and honorable a station, as that for which they have been designated by their several partizans. Adopting the newspapers as proper witnesses in this case, what must be the conclusion at home and abroad? Surely far too degrading for a large and powerful community, in an enlightened country, to be subjected to, or patiently to submit to.—But how is it to be avoided, upon the rule of deciding under consideration.

The fact is, the papers are not entitled to such extensive and unqualified credit. When a respectable editor of a paper states, as facts, things of which he may be supposed to possess the means of knowledge, he is entitled to the same credit as would belong to any other honest man, in like circumstances. When a paper promulgates predictions, opinions or speculations, on objects not immediately within his knowledge but which may answer some particular purpose, that he or some of his correspondents, may feel interested in, it is a very unsafe plan to take all for granted, and no prudent man will fall into the error.

Vienna, Aug. 14.

Here has been a magnificent review of the troops by the king of Prussia, and his son the Hereditary Prince. The air of his majesty appeared during the time to be very melancholy; and I have now heard from a respectable authority, that he had received the news of his second son (now in Russia) having been bit by a mad dog. Every method had been taken to preserve his Royal Highness from the consequences of this unpleasant accident, by applying the knife. Both the King and the Prince expressed great satisfaction at the appearance of the troops, and particularly at that of the Landwehr, who though they had been practised but a short time, displayed the greatest precision in their manœuvres.

The Prussian and Dutch fortresses are repairing (the former with great, and the latter with less activity,) throughout the low countries, and the parts of Germany bordering on them. Ehrenbreitstein, still so impregnable by nature, is recovering from its ruins; and the government is lavishing upon it whatever additional strength art can bestow.

Emigrations continue from hence, and from all other parts bordering on the Meuse and Rhine. A town is building on the Mississippi, with permission of the American Government to be called Nouvelle Liege, on account of the great number of emigrants from Leige on the Meuse; thither they carry their mechanic arts and manufactures.

The Portuguese government from Rio Janeiro had sent to purchase a number of fusils from Leige on the Meuse; but not being able to find a sufficient supply there, the full demand had been made up from England.

AMERICAN MISSION AT BOMBAY.

Extract of a letter from the Rev. Horatio Bardwell, dated Bombay, Feb. 8, 1817, to the Rev. William Fisher, of Stamford, (Con.)

"Whether we shall ever see the fruit of our labors or not, God only knows; and we are willing to leave it in his hands. If any good is done among this people, surely the excellency of the power must be acknowledged to be of God; for the strength of superstition and idolatry is beyond description. Within a mile of our house there are probably thirty temples consecrated to idols. Almost every hour in the day may be heard the prayers and supplications of the multitude to these gods of wood and stone.

A few weeks ago I witnessed the swinging of two persons, as it is called, suspended by hooks thurst through the fleshy part of the back. The machine consists of a perpendicular post about twelve feet high. At the top of this was a pivot that sustained a horizontal pole; at one end of this the hooks were fastened, at the other end ropes were fixed to raise the hooks. The whole machine was placed upon wheels. Just before the first person was suspended, an old man, girded with a belt strung with little bells, and deformed with numerous badges of horrid superstition, seized a young kid that was presented him, tore open the jugular veins with his teeth, and like a monster sucked the blood while the little animal was struggling with death. This sacrifice being made, a procession then formed and marched a number of times round the car. They at length stopped, & a man, about 30 years of age was quickly suspended on the hooks & the car was then drawn by the people a number of times round the yard, attended by customs and shouting of the multitude. After being drawn around about ten minutes, he was let down, and a woman suspended in the same manner. Neither of these persons discovered the least sign of pain, but seemed wholly at ease. was performed before a small temple, in consequence, and as the performance of certain vows voluntarily made by the persons who were thus tormented. The next day two other persons were suspended in the same way. Truly Satan is a hard master. Who that has one spark of humanity or religion can be indifferent to such horrid scenes of blood and wickedness! Beholding this exhibition, my mind was forcibly impressed with the contrast between Satan's kingdom and the kingdom of Christ. Unable to bear oral testimony against such wickedness, I could only pray that God would open their eyes to see their folly.

O, my dear brother, do tell your people what a precious blessing they enjoy by having Christ preached among them.
Are there not some among the young converts who are willing to forsake all to preach Christ to the heathen? Do encourage them, for the harvest is great.— Since I have been in India my health has been perfectly good.

Dear brother, I rejoice that the Lord has permitted me to engage in the glorious work. O, that I may be active and diligent to the end of my life, for the salvation of these poor heathens.

Rich Kenhawa Lands for Sale or Barter

I WILL sell or exchange, for property in this district or its vicinity, a valuable tract of Land in Mason county, Virginia, situate on the Great Kenhawa River, at the mouth of Eighteen Mile Creek, distant from Point Pleasant about eighteen miles. This tract binds upon the river, and contains by patent one thousand and fifty acres, a large proportion of which is rich bottom. The title is old, and indisputable, having been located and surveyed by Gen. Washington before the Revolution. Sully for Sale.

THIS estate, situated in the county of Fairfax, twenty two miles from Alexandria, and the same distance from Georgetown, contains about seven hundred and fifty acres. Little River Turnpike passes through it half a mile from the dwelling house. The situation is handsome, and remarkably healthy; the water is good and abundant. The soil which was originally excellent, has for some years past had the advantage of improving husbandry, Plaister of Paris acting with powerful and immediate effect on all grasses and grains. The fields present a good surface for cultivation, and those, now untilled, are covered with red clover. The orchards are very large and thrifty; the collection of table fruit is choice and various. The mansion is spacious and well constructed: the outhouses are conveniently situated, and the whole have been lately thoroughly repaired and painted. The farm houses, which are all nearly new, are expensive and excellent in their kind.

For a gentleman of leisure this would be a delightful residence; and a profitable estate for an active farmer. The title is indisputable, and perfectly unincumbered.

A number of well taught orderly young men, with good stocks and farming utensils of all kinds, and the crops of the present year, if desired, will be at the command of the purchaser.

Application may be made to the subscriber living on the premises, next the post-office at Pleasant Valley, in Fairfax.

James Kennedy & Son,

BOOKSELLERS,

KING-STREET, ALEXANDRIA,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from Lee's Medicine Store, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face blotted and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in the stomach and back
Consumptions	Indigestion
Lowness of spirits	Melancholy
Loss of appetite	Gout in the stomach
